

The Illinois Success Sequence Program

Dear Educator:

We are pleased to provide the Illinois Success Sequence Program (ISSP) for Illinois schools serving grades 6-12. A.C. Green's Game Plan, Quest, Aspire and Navigator are available for you and your students in workbook format or as an online learning course for no cost. Each workbook includes 8 lessons to supplement your class instruction. The ISSP helps students pursue academic excellence by resisting pressures toward sexual activity, alcohol, tobacco, and other drugs. Five hours of professional development training will be provided in multiple locations. The ISSP is widely used around the state serving 54,345 students in 340 Illinois schools since 2017.

Today's youth are flooded with mixed and confusing messages, particularly in the area of sexual activity. The ISSP helps you provide students with a clear message on the benefits of abstinence until marriage, which is a required component of the Illinois Instructional Mandates. The feedback to this program is overwhelmingly positive from students, parents, and teachers alike. Here is a note from a Carbondale Health teacher:

"I have really enjoyed teaching Game Plan to my 8th grade students. I was a little nervous about teaching this to this age group, but it has turned out to be my favorite class of the day. The students have been receptive to the material being presented to them... I was very skeptical at first, but I believe this is a great thing to teach these young teenagers!"

Illinois Learning Standards: The ISSP is a voluntary health education curriculum supplement that aligns with the Illinois Learning Standards for Physical Development & Health and the Illinois Instructional Mandates. The program is a healthy, positive alternative for schools that choose to opt out of comprehensive sexual health education. The ISSP is a respectful, non-explicit, character-based abstinence-education program with objective messaging that is universally beneficial to all students. The ISSP includes a variety of resources including student workbooks, online learning courses available in both English and Spanish, online teacher training, supplemental videos for the classroom, and an activity box with materials for classroom activities and video demonstrations of activities.

To register your school: Please use the QR code below or go to <https://successsequence.com/illinois-success-sequence-program-documentation/>. For additional samples or registration assistance, please contact Miki at 630-306-3343 or Miki@amresources.org. This initiative is sponsored by the federal HHS and will provide our high-quality engaging workbooks for each student as well as a teacher's guide for each teacher.

Thank you - Scott Phelps, President

